THE BOOK OF PLANS
HOPES
AND DREAMS

The Book of Plans Hopes and Dreams

Between 1914 and 1918 ordinary people all over the world showed that they had the most extraordinary resources: courage, valour, fortitude. They needed all of these things to endure the war.

What are your great ideas? What are you passionate about? What are your big plans for the future? Let us know ...

Imagine, then, the world if they'd been able to live their lives differently. To fulfil the plans, hopes and dreams they had before the fighting started. What dazzling differences would they have made with their passion for art, writing, science, technology or politics?

We'll never know, because 20 million people died, and many more lives were altered completely. All we can do now is wonder.

And, in honour of that silence, record our plans hopes and dreams, so that in a hundred years, people aren't left guessing. Though there is no world war, there are challenges enough.

That's where the Book of Plans, Hopes and Dreams comes in.

A project in Germany and the UK from 2014
For the future and all the lost schemes 1914 -1918

Letters from the Bridge Of Time

The Book of Plans, Hopes and Dreams gives people in Germany and the UK the chance to record their passions. In memory of all the lost schemes from World War One. As a gift to the future.

Join the Book of Plans, Hopes and Dreams project.
www.book-of-phd.com
You could win a trip to Germany and be published!

All you have to do is write two letters.

A letter to 1914: Find someone from the First World War who you are curious about, whether he or she was famous or not. Then, write them a letter. Explain why you chose them, and what your life is like now... despite so many differences it may be rather familiar to them.

A letter to 2114: Outline your favourite plan, hope or dream. You can do this in an ordinary letter, a poem or a short story.

Because every time needs plans, hopes and dreams.
